

Life is not being rich, being popular,
being highly educated or being perfect.
It is about being real, being humble and being kind.

